WHITESTOWN SEMINARY.

ADVANCED CLASS.

This Class is designed for those who desire to pursue the Languages and Mathematics, beyond the prescribed course of ordinary Academies. The studies are so arranged and pursued, as to answer for admission to an advanced standing in College. For membership in this class, a thorough preparation for College is required.

TEACHERS' CLASS.

A Teachers' Class is formed at the opening of each Fall Term, and receives daily instruction in all the branches of Education requisite to a thorough preparation for the important and responsible business of Teaching. Frequent Lectures are delivered before this Class.

COURSE OF STUDY.

The studies are so arranged, that those who desire it can pursue a regular course. This course embraces all the branches of study requisite for the acquirement of a full, thorough, and practical English education. In ordinary cases it can be completed in three years.

The course of study in the Latin and Greek languages embraces all that is required for admission into any College in the United States.

INSTRUCTION IN THE FRENCH LANGUAGE is given by a competent Teacher.

MUSIC, DRAWING AND PAINTING are made prominent objects of attention.

There is a weekly exercise in Declamation and Composition.

A BIBLICAL EXERCISE is attended to on each Sabbath.

TEXT BOOKS.

COMMON ENGLISH BRANCHES.—Mandeville's Course of Reading, Webster's or Worcester's Dictionary, Mitchell's Modern and Ancient Geography, Perkins' Elementary and Higher Arithmetics, Brown's Grammar, Willson's American History, Olmsted's Natural Philosophy.

HIGHER ENGLISH BRANCHES.—Day's Algebra, Davies' Legendre's Geometry, Davies' Surveying, Smith's Trigonometry, Silliman's Chemistry, Hitchcock's Geology, Wood's Botany, Newman's Rhetoric, Hedge's Logic, Upham's Mental Philosophy, Paley's Evidences of Christianity, Wayland's Moral Science, Butler's Analogy, Kendall's Uranography, Winchester's Book Keeping, Cutler's Physiology.

LATIN.—Bullions' Grammar, Bullions' Reader, Cooper's Virgil, Cæsar's Commentaries, Sallust, Cicero's Orations, Folsom's Livy, Horace, Leverett's Lexicon.

GREEK.—Bullions' Grammar, Bullions' Reader, Testament, Xenophon's Anabasis and Memorabilia, Owens' Homer's Odyssey, Donnegan's or Liddell and Scott's Lexicon.

FRENCH.—Levizac's Grammar, Telemaque, L'Allemagne par Madame De Stael, Racine, Meadow's Dictionary.

INSTRUCTION.

It is confidently believed that no similar Institution in the State affords more Teachers for the same number of scholars. Besides the regular Instructors an arrangement is made with the Professors of the Biblical School to hear several classes, their students being permitted to join the several classes of the Seminary in exchange.

RECITATIONS.

To ordinary recitations about one hour is devoted, and special pains are taken to secure to the student a clear and thorough knowledge of every branch pursued.

LECTURES.

Frequent lectures upon scientific and literary subjects are delivered before the students by the Teachers, and professional men of the village. These lectures are free and embrace topics highly useful and interesting to students.

APPARATUS AND LIBRARY.

The Institution is furnished with a good Philosophical, Chemical and Astronomical Apparatus, to which valuable additions have recently been made.—By the use of this, in daily experiments before the classes, the more important principles of the Natural Sciences are extensively illustrated.

The Library contains 1,500 volumes, among which are many choice Standard works; the use of which is allowed to students free of expense.

LOCATION.

For ease of access, pleasantness and accommodation, no location can surpass this.

It is in the midst of flourishing villages, on the great thoroughfare three miles west of Utica. Many of the students, who have been accustomed to labor, find profitable employment for their vacations and spare hours.

The scenery around is delightful, and the society of the villages and vicinity good.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

Two weekly Lyceums are well sustained by the young gentlemen. The young ladies have also a Literary Circle, and an Association for the promotion of Missions, and Education in the West.

GOVERNMENT.

The Officers of Government endeavor to induce students to govern themselves by their sense of the importance of a correct deportment and becoming habits. If milder means fail, in their application to individual cases, more energetic and decided measures are resorted to, and no student, refusing the obligation of wholesome restraint, or whose influence is unfavorably exerted over others, is allowed to retain a connection with the Institution.

Frequent examinations are made, in respect to the application and proficiency of each student, and cases of delinquency are promptly attended to.

No visiting is allowed between the gentlemen and ladies at any time.

The Teachers reside in the several buildings, and a constant supervision is exercised over the students.

TERMS AND VACATIONS.

The Academic year is divided into three Terms of fourteen weeks each.—The Fall Term of next year will commence August 16th. ; the Winter Term December 6th. ; the Spring and Summer Term March 28th. There are vacations of two weeks at the close of the Fall and Winter Terms, and one of six weeks at the close of the Spring Term.
